Lewis & Clark College

- ✚ Lewis & Clark College will acknowledge outstanding performances at the Intel Northwest Science Expo with scholarship offers to the category finalists. The first, second, and third place winners in each category at the fair will be offered one of our Dean's Scholarships, which range in award amount from $4,000 to $10,000 per year and are renewable each year based on continued academic excellence. In order to be awarded the scholarship, students must be accepted through our normal admissions process and enroll at the College immediately following high school graduation.
